Dying for diamonds: the mainstream media and NGOs – a case study of ActionAid

No full text available

Abstract or Description

Radical political activist movements are growing all the time. Activist politics have come to influence 'mainstream' politics over fundamental issues such as trade, gender relations, the environment and war. This book brings together activists and academics in one volume, to explore the theory and practice of global activism's relation to all forms of media, mainstream and otherwise. The contributors examine how global activism is represented in the mainstream press and explain the strategies that activists adopt to spread their own ideas. Investigating Indymedia and internet activism, they show how transformations in communications technology offer new possibilities, and explain how activists have successfully used and developed their own media. Case studies and topics include the world social forums, an example of a campaign from the NGO Action Aid, a campaign strategy from an internet activist, Greenpeace and the Brent Spar conflict, the World Development Movement and representations in the mainstream press, the Independent Media Centre, transgender activism on the net, Amnesty International, Oxfam and the internet.

Item Type: Book Section

Departments, Centres and Research Units: Media and Communications

Dates: 2004 Published

Item ID: 14410

Date Deposited: 22 Oct 2015 13:39

Last Modified: 19 Apr 2016 16:44

URI: http://research.gold.ac.uk/id/eprint/14410

Edit Record (login required)
Case studies and topics include the world social forums, an example of a campaign from the NGO Action Aid, a campaign strategy from an internet activist, Greenpeace and the Brent Spar conflict, the World Development Movement and representations in the mainstream press, the Independent Media Centre, transgender activism on the net, Amnesty International, Oxfam and the internet. Action Aid Nigeria lives by the following values of Action Aid and which has been demonstrated through the accountability, learning and planning system (ALPS) and this include; mutual respect, equity and justice, honesty and transparency, solidarity with the poor, powerless and excluded, courage of conviction, independence from any religious or political party affiliation and Humility in presentation and behaviour. Tax administration in Nigeria: challenges and prospects, a case study of Lagos State Board of Intern 20,394 people found this useful. Format: MS WORD :: Chapters: 1-5 :: Pages: 71 Source: TAXATION PROJECTS AND MATERIALS ». 